Successful PhD defense

January 19, 2023 |

After passing the closed exam in November, Sarah Könemann successfully defended her PhD on the “Mechanistic Understanding of Neurobehavioral Effects of Insecticides on the Larvae of Zebrafish (Danio rerio)” in a public defense on 9.12.2022.

The post-defense (games), the hat as well as the apero were absolutely great! Thanks to everyone who contributed.

Sarah has previously presented a part of her thesis as a poster at the Annual Meeting of the Swiss Society for Toxicology on the 17.11.2022 in Basel and won one of the poster awards.

Congratulations!
