Professor Bernhard Truffer of the Eawag Water Research Institute is among the "highly cited researchers 2022".

This means that Bernhard Truffer, head of the Eawag research group Business Innovation and Sustainability Transitions and professor of the geography of transitions at Utrecht University (Netherlands), is among the most cited and influential scientists in his field. Clarivate Analytics has been publishing the "highly cited researchers" ranking every year since 2014. The list includes researchers who have written several "highly cited papers" in recent years (2011 to 2021).

Eawag congratulates Bernhard Truffer on his achievement!
